Hans Lagerweij Returns as CEO of Albatros Expeditions, Propelling the Company into the Next Phase of Growth

COPENHAGEN, DENMARK- Albatros Expeditions is thrilled to announce the return of Hans Lagerweij as Chief Executive Officer, effective July 1, 2023. After exploring other career opportunities for the past 1.5 years, Lagerweij brings his extensive expertise and passion back to Albatros Expeditions, furthering the company's growth and innovation.

Albatros Expeditions underwent a remarkable transformation in recent years, becoming a trailblazer in the industry with innovative itineraries, an expert onboard team, the most modern fleet, and the lowest carbon emissions per guest. With a legacy of delivering unforgettable expeditions to remote corners of the world since 1986, Albatros Expeditions has evolved beyond its expertise in Greenland to encompass a wide range of voyages across the Arctic, Europe, South America, and Antarctica.

Lagerweij emphasized the company's expansion, stating, "We are no longer solely a Greenland expert. Our itineraries now span diverse destinations, offering unparalleled experiences in some of the most breathtaking regions on Earth. Moreover, we have transformed from primarily serving Scandinavia and Asia to embracing the United States as one of our biggest markets. This strategic shift has propelled Albatros Expeditions into being a truly global company."

As Lagerweij takes the helm once again, he expressed his enthusiasm for working with the exceptional team at Albatros Expeditions. "I am thrilled to collaborate with our outstanding professionals as we embark on the next phase of the company's journey. Together, we will continue to deliver exceptional expeditions and shape the future of sustainable travel to the most remote parts of the world."
